Lives of Several Endangered in Going to Assistance of Marooned Auto Party Crows Nest Lake

Mounted Police and Dr. Borden Spend Hours Searching During Fierce Blizzard Around Crows Nest Lake—J. Pelletier Brings in Several Rescuers by Trusty Team and Sleigh.

About 11 p. m. Sunday during the height of a blizzard and a sub-zero temperature a telephone call came in from the power plant at Crows Nest lake requesting assistance for a stalled car, in which two men, two women and a child were travelling eastward.

F. B. VanDuzee and Ken Blain of Sentinel Motors responded, and starting out in a car, were followed some time later by the wrecking car. The first two got about six miles west, where they stalled, and the wrecking car driven by Ray Frederickson who was accompanied by Hector McDonald became stalled about about 1 1/2 miles west.

Dr. R. P. Borden, hearing of the marooned party, started out in his car, and became stalled at the same place as the wrecking car, neither gaining sight of the car preceding them. The doctor and Frederickson walked back, and notified the mounted police, coming in about 5 a. m. Monday.

Constable Foster of Blairmore detachment R. C. M. P. hearing that a snow plow was to make a trip westward on the C. P. R., in their hall on Feb. 14, from 3 secured permission to travel on to 6 p. m.

the special, and was accompanied by Constable Bird, picking up Dr. Borden at Coleman, who had secured blankets, stretchers and restoratives in readiness for emergency treatment.

Proceeding to Crows Nest station, keeping a sharp lookout throughout the driving blizzard, but owing to poor visibility not being able to distinguish just where the marooned cars were, Dr. Borden and Constables Foster and Bird walked back from the station to the power plant, a distance of several miles, a feat requiring considerable endurance in the fierce blizzard. Obtaining no trace of the cars, they were picked up by the train which had returned eastward from Crows Nest.

In the meantime a service truck from the relief camp at Crows Nest, B. C., east having turned out under Captain Higgins in response to police telephone calls, had come eastward and found the highway blocked by the marooned car and those which had gone to its assistance, in the vicinity of Sentinel section house.

MRS. CHALMERS PASSED ON AFTER THREE WEEKS ILLNESS

Had Lived Here for 23 Years, Coming From Bonnyrigg, Midlothian, in 1912.

On Sunday morning in the miners' hospital Mrs. Isabella Black Ayton Chalmers passed on in her 66th year. She had been a patient since prior to Christmas, and was in a critical condition for some days preceding death. Her daughter, Mrs. George Reid, who left with her husband and children in November to live in Scotland, left when her mother's illness became serious, but did not arrive till Wednesday. The funeral was announced to be held on Friday, from the family home in East Coleman.

Deceased's husband died in 1920. Members of the family are Jim and Alex, sons, and Mrs. George Reid and Mrs. Frank Wheatley, Jr., granddaughters, who have been with her mother during her illness.

MISCELLANEOUS

Miss Eleanor Nielsen of Edmonton spent the week-end at her home here.

The Journal acknowledges the special mid-winter number of the Los Angeles Times, forwarded by Mr. O. E. S. Whitehead, who, with his wife and daughter has been holidaying in California since before Christmas. It is reported they will leave for home this week.

"Execution" is the name of the local Social Credit group, of which Albert E. Knowles is president and A. Webster secretary. Meetings are held weekly. Mr. Knowles in his enthusiasm has written a parody on "Home on the Range," entitled "Oh Give Me a Home." An article entitled "The Way Out" by D. Hoyle, is published in the Social Credit Chronicle.

Even the oldest of the old-timers has to do a lot of remembering in these days of continued cold weather and several feet of snow. By the time this appears in print there may be a change from the month of severe weather which has been generally experienced throughout Alberta. If it wasn't for the C.P.R. the small towns would be cut off completely from the outer world.

UNITED CHURCH NOTES

The annual congregational meeting postponed last Monday will be held on Monday night, Jan. 28 at 7:30. Members, adherents and friends invited to these services and to the annual meeting.

LOCAL AND GENERAL

Bright sunshine and a Chinook wind rapidly shrunk snow drifts on Wednesday.

W. Filafilo, local dairyman, states in 32 years in this district he never experienced such a month of continual severe weather as that from Dec. 22 to Jan. 22. But his faithful Dobbin continued on his daily rounds bringing milk to the large number of families he serves.

Corbin Miners on Strike

About 220 mine workers at Corbin Collieries went on strike on Monday, over the discharge of a miner. It is reported that in the agreement between the company and the men disputes of this nature must be submitted to arbitration before a strike is called, but this was not done, a standing vote declaring a strike.

The local union at Corbin is affiliated with the Mine Workers Union of Canada. It is reported that officials are manning the boilers and other essential points around the works.

Canadians Lose to Medicine Hat and Retrieve Defeat at Lethbridge

Coleman Canadians slipped badly at Medicine Hat on Saturday evening, when they went under by a score of 5-1. Coleman's hopes of finishing on top of the heap are rapidly diminishing, as they have lost two of the five games played and in a league schedule as short as the present one, a game lost is very hard to overcome, especially if the other teams continue to win.

Lost of Joyce, injured at the mine a few days ago, and playing Kwasnie and Brown who were suffering from leg injuries, tended to keep the team from being at its best. Coleman, provided they win their remaining games, still have a chance to finish first or at the least tie for first place.

Canadians set the Lethbridge Maple Leafs back on their heels much to the dismay of the Lethbridge fans, on Sunday afternoon by a 7-2 score. According to press reports Coleman had all the breaks. Jenkins, Bill and Jim Fraser shared eleven scoring points between them, Jenkins getting four goals while the Frasers supplied the assists, occasionally sniping a goal for themselves.

Mr. Remi D'onne, aged 69 years and 11 months, well-known resident of the North Fork, died on Jan. 9. He was born at St. Agathe, near Winnipeg, and after living in North Dakota where he was married to Rosalie St. Arnaud, moved to Montana, and later to Saskatchewan. In 1903 he took a homestead near North Fork. Louis Dionne is a son, who with five other sons, Edward, Fred, Louis, George and Lawrence were pallbearers at the funeral held on Jan. 10 at St. Joseph's church. Cowley, where Requiem High Mass was sung by Father J. O'Dea.

The Rangers entertained the Rovers on Wednesday evening at a theatre party. After the show the boys and girls went to the parish hall and had a nice supper.

Keep the Sidewalks Clean

ONE piece of sidewalk which should receive daily clearing of snow during stormy weather is that between the post-office and the depot. The C.P.R. keep their portion clear but often the town's portion is left untouched, and people have to beat their own path to and from the station, or the post-master has to employ men to shovel the sidewalk. Passing the buck by leaving it to propertyholders is no good. There is a by-law which should be enforced, and when the required attention is not given the town should step in and put men to work.

Caledonians to Honor

Memory of Burns

Coleman Caledonian society will hold "a nicht wi' Burns" on Friday evening in the I. O. O. F. hall. The event will no be as auspicious as in previous years, the members being only allowed to invite their friends. Local speakers will review the history of the Scottish bard and it is expected local talent will supply the entertainment. Bringing in the haggis to the skirt of the bag-pipes will be the feature event of the evening followed by a bountiful supper. Dances, old and new, will be enjoyed during the latter part of the evening.

Joe Kovach, forest ranger at South Fork, walked through to Coleman on Wednesday on snowshoes, taking 71 hours for the trip. Most of the way he waded through snow up to his knees as even snowshoes would not keep one on the surface. He makes the trip about every eight days, getting his mail here.

Buy typewriter ribbons and copying paper at The Journal office. Blank counter check books or printed form order may also be obtained.

Annual Meetings of Ratepayers for Town and School District

Financial reports of both town and school district show an improvement in tax receipts for 1934, and particulars will be submitted at Friday's meeting in the town hall at 8 p.m. Usually the school district meeting is held first, and this will be presided over by J. M. Allan, chairman of the trustees, and reports will be given by chairmen of the various committees, covering this year's work.

In the absence of Mayor Paterson, it is expected Deputy Mayor Bortwick will preside at the town meeting, and reports will also be submitted by the various committees.

Reference to the town's financial statement in this issue shows a substantial improvement in tax collections, current and arrears, leaving a surplus for the year.

Owing to considerable road improvement being contemplated, together with other necessary local improvements, the town has funds in hand to commence this work, which, though nothing definite has been given out, it is hoped may be quite extensive in order to furnish local employment. For a number of years there has been talk of surfacing roads in the down-town area, and an ambitious program was mapped out some years ago for asphalt paving part of the streets. However, this was abandoned in view of the high cost, but it is likely a more moderate plan may be followed.

Ratepayers are asked to attend the meetings on Friday evening, for there undoubtedly is much of interest to be learned by progressive ratepayers.

The hockey game between Lethbridge and Coleman, postponed on Jan. 17, because of severe weather, is reported to be played on Feb. 2.

Orders for Gummed Paper for parcelling machines may be filled at The Journal office. Plain or printed paper may be supplied at lowest current prices. Printed gummed paper orders should be given one month ahead of requirement as it takes that length of time to put the orders through the factory.

Putting the World Together Again

A new book recently issued under the title "Courage For To-day" begins with a little story that has a lot of meaning in it. A man gave his small son a very elaborate jig-saw puzzle. It had been made by tearing a map of the world into little pieces. In a short time the child reported that the picture of the world was all put together. "How could you have done it so fast?" asked the father in amazement. "Oh, it was easy," answered the child. "You see, there was a picture of a man on the other side. When I put him together, the world was put together, too."

Men, and parties, and governments are all trying to put this old-world together again. The number of plans and theories and policies advocated as the only way in which this gigantic task can be accomplished are beyond computation or classification. Speeches turn with suggestions of all kinds, newspaper and magazine articles flow in an uninterrupted stream from the printing presses, books are piled upon books, all presenting the speaker's or writer's idea of the particular thing that must be done. To-day's brilliant suggestion is completely destroyed by to-morrow's contribution until practically all of us are in a fog.

Men of prominence, leaders of their fellow men, change their views over night and to-day are found denouncing that which they vigorously upheld and championed yesterday; whole nations almost in the twinkling of an eye abandon policies and forms of government which for scores of years, even centuries, have been accepted as traditionally sound and wise. One group declares that mankind must retrace its steps backward to the tribal conditions of struggle and must be regimented all hope or right to profit above a standard form of living which may result from his individual initiative and efforts, and this group declares for State Socialism. A third group holds that the only way to bring about a better world is to have a man in charge, capable of self-government, that democracy is an abject failure, and that only a selected few are wise enough, strong enough, capable enough to govern and that they should take full control into their hands, and retain it by force if and when necessary, and impose their will and ideas upon all others. They declare for Fascism and dictatorship.

Each and all of these groups fail to recognize and learn the simple lesson which the small boy with his jig-saw puzzle so quickly demonstrated, namely, that if man himself is made right the world itself will be righted. Business in the hands of dishonest men will be dishonest business, and its transfer from private to government control, whether Democratic, Communist, Socialist or Fascist, will not make business honest. There has been as much, if not more, graft and corruption, and just as many mistakes made, if, indeed, not more, under governments as there have been in private business. Private business has corrupted and bedeviled governments, but even today, have governments corrupted, bedeviled and destroyed private business and made huge and colossal blunders. In fact, governments, supported, even driven by their people, are more responsible for the present ills of the world than is private business as now constituted.

And who is responsible? Many an honest businessman has been forced to adopt unethical, even dishonest practices, because his customers have demanded it of him. The same is true of high principled men entrusted with the duties and responsibilities of government. A government adopts a policy in the general public interest, and imposes a tax for the necessary purposes of government, and the average man and woman, in their desire to devise ways and means of evading the tax and escaping their responsibilities, and this group struggles to escape paying Customs duties, another swears to a false affidavit to avoid paying a gasoline tax, still another "doctors" an income tax return, and so it goes.

Completely changing the system will not effect a cure; it is man himself who must change. It is the human factor that is wrong, and until it is the system may be, and the larger the degree of power placed in the hands of a few the greater the opportunity for evil, and because the greater the power the leads to the grasping for more power regardless of the methods whereby it may be obtained.

Governments are created to govern a country; not to usurp the rights and destroy the liberties of the people. People should control and direct their governments; not the government control and direct the people. It is the duty and responsibility of governments to check and control the dishonest and eliminate wrongs and abuses imposed by individuals or groups of individuals upon others. That is the function of governments acting in the interests of all, but it is not a proper government function to interfere with or usurp the rights of individuals in the proper ordering of their own lives and in the carrying on of their legitimate occupations.

The inalienable rights of man are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. Life is more than money and business; liberty is much more than a regimented mode of existence and a stated standard of living; the pursuit of happiness must be left to the individual otherwise he cannot be happy. His own salvation, and aided by such institutions as he may himself devise and set up to assist him, through education and otherwise, rise to higher things and nobler conceptions.

Politicians, financiers, economists, social workers, all must come to a realization and acceptance of the fact demonstrated by the small boy's jig-saw puzzle, namely, that the speediest way to put this old world together again is to put man himself together as a Divine Creator intended him to be.

Not Due To Luck

The victory of Wolfe at Quebec was not due to luck in finding the path up the steep surrounding cliffs, but to the thorough work of a British officer, known as "The Intelligent Gentleman." This officer furnished Wolfe with complete plans of every detail of the city. Wolfe died with the map in his hands.

Seed Oats Are Scarce

Drought And Early Frost Has Menaced The Viable Supply

F. W. Townley-Smith, of Lashburn, national vice-president of the Canadian Seed Growers' Association, was re-elected president of the Saskatchewan branch of the association at the annual convention held at the University of Saskatchewan as growers learned that combined effects of drought and early frost had seriously menaced the viable supply of seed oats. So severe was the harm done to crops last summer that ordinary seed might carry as many as 40 wild oats to the pound and the association discussed the lowering of germination percentage required in registered seed.

Unless some reduction was allowed in the germination percentage required for registered oats, much of this high-grade seed might fail to make the grade and the pure seed touched by the frost fall into the common class. It was pointed out the authorities have suggested lowering the required germination to 80 per cent. for No. 1, 75 per cent. for No. 2, and 65 per cent. for No. 3, the same percentages as for commercial seed. The matter was left to the C.S.G.A. executive.

Infant Prodigy

Unusual Physical Feats Performed By Fifteen-Month-Old Child

A 15-month-old girl climbed seven-foot inclines, dropped unaided from 4½-foot heights and roller skated, before an audience of psychologists and doctors in New York.

Her twin sister, Margie, unable to perform any of these feats, was present as a laboratory exhibit of the untrained child. Florie, the agile child, and her identical twin have put in an eight-hour, five-day week since birth at the normal child development clinic in the babies' hospital of the Columbia Presbyterian medical center, developing for scientists the latest theories of child training.

Dr. Myrtle B. McGraw, who has had the twins in daily charge, said her studies indicate some of the advice handed out to parents has been "bunk," specifically the idea of undisciplined freedom for children and the warning never to say "don't," said Dr. McGraw.

National Fund To Combat Cancer

25th Anniversary Of The Accession Of The King To The Throne To Be Commemorated

Canada will commemorate the 25th anniversary of the accession of the king to the throne in May by the establishment of a national fund to assist in combating cancer.

Following statement announcing the fund was made public:

"His Majesty The King, in response to a request from His Excellency the Governor-general, has graciously consented to the inauguration of a national fund to commemorate the 25th anniversary of His Majesty's accession to the throne. It is understood that this fund will be devoted to the campaign against cancer in Canada, and that, by special permission of His Majesty, it will be named The King George V. Silver Jubilee Cancer Fund for Canada."

Canadian Boy Scouts Active

Eighty Thousand Children Supplied With Christmas Toys

Eighty thousand children were supplied with Christmas toys through a chain of 150 toy shops operated across Canada from coast to coast by Canadian Boy Scouts. Since their inception eleven years ago Canadian Boy Scout toy shops have collected, repaired, repainted and distributed nearly two million toys to over half-a-million Canadian children. In many centres scarcity of old toys this past year caused the Scouts to try their hand at making new ones, and whole-sale quantities of new wagons, trucks, tractors, racers, doll bedrooms and many other toys to delight the childish heart were added to Santa's pack.

Thousands of family parcels of toys were sent to settlers rehabilitated in Ontario and Quebec by government and municipal back-to-the-land schemes, and to new homesteaders in Northern Saskatchewan. Heavy shipments of toys were made by eastern Scout toy shops to assist their brother Scouts in the West to carry on the good work. In addition, Scouts in the East distributed thousands of playthings among the children of their own districts who might otherwise have been overlooked.

Toys were not the only medium for Scout good turns at Christmas. In several centres, mostly in the eastern provinces, the boys conducted "relief barrel" campaigns. Large barrels were placed in grocery stores with signs inviting customers to purchase one extra article and place it in the barrel for distribution to the needy at Christmas. Thousands of hampers of food were provided in this manner. In one centre Boy Scouts sold apples on the streets and with the proceeds bought hampers for needy families. In another they sponsored a theatre matinee for children to which the price of admission was one article of canned food, and the receipts were used for Christmas distribution.

Killed Mountain Lion

Alberta Man Had Narrow Escape When Beaten Charged

What is presumed to be a mountain lion was killed the other day by Napoleon Whitford near McRae, 20 miles north of Ashmont, Alta. The animal has short hair and of a reddish-brown color. The body measured close to five feet in length with a tail about two and a half feet long. The skin when stretched measured eight feet from tip to tip.

The animal was killed with a .22 calibre rifle, five shots being fired before the lion was stopped. The first four shots merely glanced off the beast's head, partly stunning it. It had turned on Mr. Whitford and was charging down on him when it was dropped by a bullet in a vital spot just behind the ear.

A three-year-old steer which was killed in the vicinity the previous night is believed to have been slaughtered by the lion. Tracks of four other animals, similar to the ones made by this one, have been seen in the same locality.

According to the oldest Indian in Ashmont, a mountain lion has never before been known to visit this part of the country.

Married Men Live Longest

Death Rate Shown To Be Much Lower Among The Benedictines

It's the married man—not the bachelor—who lives longest. Not only lives longest, but is less likely to do his living in the poor house.

Professor Edwin S. Burrill, of the department of economics and social science at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, is author of those observations—those and a few others—on the world-insurance against crime, insanity, poverty, and premature death. The bachelor hasn't the social responsibility of the married man. As a rule, he is answerable only to himself. Therefore, when he is tempted to commit crime there is not the deterrent of thought of consequences.

NOW SORE THROAT EASED IN LESS THAN 3 MINUTES!

Rawness, Irritation Go at Once
Note Directions for New Instant Treatment

Incredible as it may seem, doctors are now prescribing a way that relieves a painful sore throat in as little as 2 to 3 minutes!

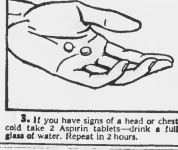

All you do is crush and stir 3 Aspirin tablets in ¼ glass of water and gargle with it twice.

Aspirin tablets disintegrate so completely no irritating particles are left. Results are immediate. At once soreness is eased—discomfort allayed.

Everywhere throat specialists urge this fundamental treatment instead of less effective old-time "washes" and "antiseptics." Remember this. And when you buy, see that you get ASPIRIN. It is made in Canada and all druggists have it. Look for the name Bayer on every Aspirin tablet. Aspirin is the trade mark of the Bayer Company, Limited.

2. Gargle thoroughly—throw head way back. Allow a little to trickle down throat. Repeat—do not rinse mouth.

3. If you have signs of a head or chest cold take 2 Aspirin tablets—mix in a full glass of water. Repeat in 2 hours.

DOES NOT HARM THE HEART

The Hero's Reward

Did Not Even Get Thanks For Brave Deed

Heroes are not men made. There was one of them on a street at Baltimore, Md., the other day. He was dawdling on the sidewalk when he saw some children in a parked motor car release the brake and the car started rolling down a hill, while their mother stood distractedly on the sidewalk.

In an instant he took in the situation and the frightful tragedy that might ensue. He rushed after the car, caught up, leaped in and put on the brake but not before the car had gone careening upon the sidewalk. Much as he had been awarded for, but in this case a policeman rushed up and the hero had great difficulty escaping arrest for reckless driving.

When the distracted mother arrived, her only comment was: "Whereas you put the car back where you got it from as quickly as possible?" If the children's father discover it's gone, he will be simply furious.—Brandon Sun.

New Fighting Machine

One Man Tank Developed For Machine Gunners

A new type of land fighting machine—that is in effect a mobile unit of armor—is being tried out by the British war office.

The machine is a steel box, seven feet long, two and a half feet wide, and about two feet high.

It is designed for use in advance reconnoitering work in open warfare. The machine would take the place of the infantryman who has to crawl on his chest seeking scraps of cover as he advances.

The new machine does not look like a tank, but it would achieve most of the functions of a light tank without being so cumbersome.

The man who is honest with himself cannot help being that way with others.

To Protect The Public

Maximum Speed Rate For Motorists In England To Be Thirty Miles Per Hour

A maximum speed of 30 miles an hour for all vehicles in England after March 18 was ordered by the government recently.

In addition, city traffic measures now in effect in London for the protection of pedestrians will be extended to the rest of the country. In London shining nail-heads or colored stones mark the crossings to be used by pedestrians. Traffic signals consisting of black-and-white posts, surmounted by bright orange-colored lights, will be erected in many places.

Says Canada Has Cheapest Railway Rates In The World

Ottawa.—Canada has the cheapest railway rates in the world, and few people appreciate the fact, Hon. C. P. Fullerton, chairman of the board of trustees of the Canadian National Railways stated here. "The Canadian National Railways are being sacrificed for the good of the country as a whole," he said.

"Sir Henry Thornton once said if the C.N.R. had the same rates for grain shipments as those of the United States, the C.N.R. would not only pay the interest on its bonded indebtedness, but would have $20,000,000 to spare," he said.

"As I thought that rather a remarkable statement, I asked our economist to check it up and he found it to be the case," he said. Mr. Fullerton said that he hoped the time would come shortly when the C.N.R. would not only meet all interest payments but also would make a drive on paying off the bonded debt. Economies continued to go on; wherever possible without impairing service, economies would be effected.

To Greet Hitler

Reception In Saar To German Leader

On March 5

Saarbrücken, Saar Basin Territory.—Saarlanders set to work to prepare the triumphal reception they will give Adolf Hitler six weeks hence when they had their territory over to the Nazi fueder.

A curt "good riddance," meanwhile, was the comment of most residents of the Saar, which voted overwhelmingly to return to Germany, to the news that some 1,500 or 2,000 Saarlanders, fearing Nazi terrorism, have fled the basin since Jan. 20.

Saarlanders heard with jubilation that the first German police will set foot in the Saar March 1.

After the police, the next day, will come the Nazi brown and blackshirts and Hitler is expected to arrive Sunday, March 3, survey his new territorial acquisition and complete the three-day celebration with an address urging Franco-German friendship.

Study Drouth Problems

Want Federal Commission To Investigate Conditions In West

Winnipeg.—Creation of a permanent federal commission to study the drouth problem in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta and direct corrective measures, was approved at the annual meeting of the Association of Manitoba Land Surveyors here.

It was suggested the entire area might be divided into zones suitable for grazing, cultivation, or eliminated from cultivation, according to the nature of the soil and available water supply.

U. F. A. Would Take Steps To Establish Federal System Of Social Credit

Calgary.—Recognizing demands for social credit principles, the annual convention of the United Farmers of Alberta asked the Alberta government to engage Major C. H. Douglas, English economist, as financial adviser with a view to establishing a federal system of social credit.

A start was made on having up a declaration of principles as a platform for the Alberta general elections, which must be held this year. Written into the principles were equalization of taxation, refunding capital debts of the provinces and municipalities, reduction in interest rates and use of influence and co-operation to effect nationalization of the Bank of Canada, a new monetary system under public control and a national system of short term and intermediate credits.

Identifying Major Douglas as the "foremost authority upon the system of social credit," the convention recommended definite work which in Major Douglas would undertake. Previously the convention had rejected by overwhelming vote a proposal to make the social credit plan sponsored by William Aberhart, Calgary school principal, a part of its program.

To Fly Pacific

Colonel Lindbergh Expected To Take Air Trip To Orient

New York.—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh is expected to fly the Pacific just as soon as the court in Flemington, N.J., decides whether Bruno Richard Hauptmann murdered his son.

The famous flyer, it was revealed by intimate associates, is expected to fly to the Orient preliminary to the establishment of an experimental air transport service between North America and China, which will reduce the transportation time between the Orient and the new world to 60 flying hours.

The Pan American Airways system, whose technical committee Colonel Lindbergh heads, is rapidly advancing plans for the establishment of an experimental air transport service to link California, the Hawaiian Islands, the Philippines, and other United States possessions in the Pacific and Orient.

A giant trans-ocean training plane, the "Clipper-Pioneer," sister ship of the record-breaking "Brazilian Clipper," has been delivered (to Pan American's marine operating base at Miami. It can operate up to 3,000 miles, the non-stop range of the four-engine flying boat.

Bandits Captured

Running Gun Fight In Illinois Results In Loss Of Lives

La Salle, Ill.—A gallant sheriff, a bank cashier and a bank robber died and three men and a boy were wounded in a series of gun battles that raged through three counties.

Three pitched engagements with 65 participants, took place along a 30-mile line as a quartette of gangsters sought to blast their way to freedom after they had been beaten back in an attempt to loot the Leonore (Ill.) State bank.

Charles Bundy, 54, the bank official, and Sheriff Glenn Axline, of Marshall county, were killed by the gunmen's bullets. Melvyn Leis committed suicide a moment before his confederates were captured by a sharp-shooter, now posse on a bloodstained farm near McNabb, Ill.

Urges Trade Treaty

Ottawa.—Negotiations of a trade treaty with the United States will again be urged in the House of Commons this session by William Duff, Liberal member for Antigonish-Guyaboro.

May Enter House Of Lords

Derby, Eng.—Possibility that J. H. Thomas, secretary for the dominions, might be going into the house of lords was suggested by the Duke of Devonshire, presiding at a meeting in honor of the cabinet minister.

Farm Board Appeals

Board of Review For Alberta Sitting At Edmonton

Edmonton.—Faced with a list of 36 appeals from farmers in this district, the board of review for Alberta, appointed under the federal Farmers' Creditors' Arrangement Act, has begun its sittings here.

The board, composed of Mr. Justice Ewing, chairman, with S. H. McCaig, K.C., representing the creditors, and H. B. Macleod, High River, for the debtors, will hear three cases daily for the next three weeks.

After the sittings here the board will leave for the north country and hear cases at Peace River and Grande Prairie. After three weeks in the north, the board will return to Edmonton, when announcement will be made of further sittings.

General reduction of two per cent. in the rate of interest was shown by the board's first batch of awards. In some cases, rates on mortgages were cut from eight to five per cent.

Mould Public Opinion

Press Of British Empire Has Great Traditions, Says Prince of Wales

London.—The Prince of Wales told the Stationers and Paper-makers Company the press of the British Empire has great traditions in that it supports the king and his people regardless of political considerations.

The prince, presiding at a dinner staged in honor of delegates to the conference of the Empire Press Union, declared the "power of the press is a saying with which we are all familiar, but it is becoming truer every day."

"The power of the newspaper is immense. It is no exaggeration that you can mould public thought into almost any shape you choose."

Low Interest Rates

Ontario Government Seizes Lowest Rates In Province's History

Toronto.—Sale by the Ontario government of treasury notes at the lowest rate in the province's history was announced by Premier Mitchell F. Hepburn. The premier said a $20,000,000 issue has been disposed of at an interest rate of 2.25 per cent.

The notes are reported to be for a two-year term, and will take care of the six per cent. issue of some $5,000,000 which matures on Feb. 1, and will be used also to refund short term indebtedness and for certain capital expenditures.

Fire Destroys Mail

Edmonton.—Fire in the second mail and baggage car of a Northern Alberta Railway train to Waterways on Jan. 15 destroyed a quantity of mail, baggage and express. Loss is believed to be small. Salvaged mail was returned by motor truck to the post office here by Postal Inspector Riley who happened to be a passenger.

Suggests New Ministry

Quebec.—Establishment of a ministry of commerce such as he understood was under consideration in Alberta and Manitoba was recommended in the Quebec legislature by Edouard Fortin, (Lib., Beauce). Mr. Fortin thought such a department would be invaluable in stabilizing industry, notably in the rural districts.

Viceroy Buys New Plane

LORD WILLINGDON

So satisfactory have been the journeys made by air to various parts of India in the past two years by the Viceroy of India that Lord Willingdon has purchased a large four-engine plane for regular use in travel about the sub-continent.

War On Timber Wolves

Edmonton Chamber Of Commerce Asks Government To Offer Bounty

Edmonton.—War was declared on timber wolves and cougars in Alberta by the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce, which will ask the provincial government to place a bounty on their heads.

Attention was drawn to the timber wolf crisis by the St. Paul Board of Stettler, which complained that deer in that district are being killed off by increasing numbers of wolves.

From the area west of Edmonton a report was received by the chamber that cougars were causing similar damage to big game.

Would Revise Plan

Alberta Member Advocates Superannuation For All Over 35

Calgary.—George C. Cote, M.P. for MacLeod, has urged superannuation of all persons over 35 years of age, guarantee of employment to persons under that age, stabilized farm prices at the 1926 level and a financial system controlled by the public.

Addressing the annual convention of the United Farmers of Alberta, Mr. Cote declared farmers would be included in the superannuation plan, which would pay about $50 monthly. It would not be compulsory. Under the plan thousands of younger men would replace those getting pensions.

France Is Anxious

Fear Saar Plebiscite Not Enough To Pacify Hitler

Paris.—A hope his victory in the Saar plebiscite would satisfy and pacify Adolf Hitler is widely held in France, but there is an undercurrent of anxiety lest he become more dangerous.

Officials were startled by the freeloading showing of the status of adherents, but they took the outcome with the best grace possible, reminding the world that France maintained neutrality and the vote, after all, was purely an affair between Hitler's friends and his foes.

BRITISH LORD CHIEF JUSTICE WEDS

Here we see Lord Hewart, Lord Chief Justice of England, leaving the Parish Church of Tottershire, with his bride, the former Miss Jean Stewart, after the wedding ceremony. Lady Hewart formerly resided at Wanganui, New Zealand, and is a cousin of Sir William Peat, the Accountant and Lord of the Manor of Tottershire.

Efforts Being Made To Bring Germany Into The League Again

Favors World Court

President Roosevelt Asks Senate To Ratify American Adherence

Washington.—In the interests of "world peace," President Roosevelt asked the United States senate in a special message to ratify American adherence to the world court.

The brief presidential message also urged that ratification "be given in such form as not to defeat or to delay the objective of adherence."

This was interpreted in senatorial circles as representing opposition to any new reservations.

Mr. Roosevelt asserted that for years both Republicans and Democrats in party platforms had favored adherence.

"The sovereignty of the United States," he said, "will be in no way diminished or jeopardized by such action. At this period in international relationships, where every act is of moment to the future of world peace, the United States has an opportunity once more to throw its weight into the scale in favor of peace."

Cheers For Brownlee

United Farm Women Of Alberta Applaud Ex-Premier

Calgary.—Mrs. Richard Price, of Stettler, was re-elected president of the United Farm Women of Alberta, at the annual convention here. It was her third term.

The women heard addresses by J. E. Brownlee, Dr. M. R. Bow, deputy minister of public health; Hon. J. S. Grisfale, minister of agriculture, and Mrs. Zella H. Spencer, Edmonton.

Rousing cheers were given by the 100 women delegates and many visitors when Mr. Brownlee, former premier, took the platform to speak. Mrs. Price, extending the thanks of the convention, said she hoped Mr. Brownlee would soon be back in his rightful post as "head of the Alberta government."

Would Amend Company Laws

Former Minister Of Trade And Commerce Urges Action

Montreal.—A drastic amendment of company laws and practices, with the establishment of a Dominion commission of industry and commerce to administer all laws relating to these matters, was urged before the Canadian Club here by Hon. H. H. Stevens, former minister of trade and commerce and former chairman of the House of Commons committee investigating mass buying and price spreads.

Proposed Measures Are Announced In Speech From The Throne

Ottawa.—Social, economic and agricultural legislation advocated by Prime Minister R. B. Bennett in his series of pre-congressional addresses, were promised in the speech from the throne read by the governor-general at the opening of parliament.

In addition the members were told they would be asked to consider policies designed to consolidate and expand the empire trade agreements, and increase world trade generally. The policy of the government, the speech stated, would be to work towards arms reduction and stabilization of international economic relations.

Two new cabinet ministers, R. B. Hanson and Grover Stirling, took their seats on the treasury benches for the first time. Two former cabinet members, Hon. H. H. Stevens, who resigned some weeks ago, and Hon. Murray McLaren, were shifted to front-row seats along the Conservative side of the chamber.

The following definite legislative measures were announced: Unemployment and health insurance.

Better provision for old age pensions. Extended facilities for long-term and intermediate credit. Minimum wage law and a multi-week working week.

To alter the incidents of taxation so that it will more directly conform to capacity to pay.

To safeguard the consumer and

Geneva.—The League of Nations council, having disposed of the Saar, moved to reap all possible benefit from the outcome of that vexed question.

A day of intense corridor discussions among the statesmen of the great powers gathered here confirmed the belief that persistent efforts were being made to rally Germany to the family of nations again, secure her support of the "Eastern Locarno" and the Franco-Italian accords on Central Europe, and set moving once more the ruling machinery of the disarmament conference.

The council itself had lots to occupy it. The voluminous Hungarian memorandum on the Marseille assassination was handed to the council with a covering letter that affirmed: "It is impossible to link a connection either direct or indirect, with the assassinations at Marseille."

Hungary had undertaken to investigate all possible terrorist activities on her territory, after Yugoslavia directly accused her of responsibility in the assassinations.

The report is understood to indicate Hungary took severe measures to repress Coactions found on her territory.

Among other pre-occupations was the Unalut frontier dispute between Italy and Ethiopia, although later it was leaked the dispute might be withdrawn.

Fox Fur Farming

Canadian National Fox Breeding Association Met At Saskatoon

Saskatoon.—Fox fur farming in 1934 was reviewed by 40 delegates representing every province in Canada at the 15th annual meeting of the Canadian National Silver Fox Breeders' Association here—the first annual meeting in the history of the breeders. The meeting was held in the city of Toronto.

Technical changes in the constitution came up for discussion, with George Calbeck, of Summerside, P.E.I., president, in the chair. The last annual meeting was held in Quebec city.

Deal With Drouth Problem

Edmonton.—A permanent committee to deal with the problems of drouth areas in Alberta has been appointed by the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce. Interest in the drouth situation in the southern sections of the province was accentuated by the recent addresses here by W. L. McTavish, of the Winnipeg Tribune, on the subject.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

U. F. A. LEADERS after hearing William Aberhart address their convention on his Social Credit theory decide not to include it as a plank in their platform in the 1935 provincial elections

ROBERT GARDINER, M. P., president of the U. F. A., gives his opinion it is unworkable, and ex Premier Brownlee commends the farmers' party for voting against it by a majority of about 400 to 30, while the women's section records 90 votes to 3 against.

THE QUESTION which puzzles people apparently is how can the "State Credit House" maintain the merry-go-round of unlimited credit, and how can it deal with those outside the province who desire to carry on business with Alberta people?

EVERYDAY EXPERIENCE demonstrates there are many whose "social" or business credit is a poor risk. Unless Mr. Aberhart can regiment people into the ideal condition which he attempts to get up, materialization of his Utopian dream appears remote, for hard facts must be faced, which require more than sentiment and a statement that money will be replaced by non negotiable certificates, in furnishing Social Credit to Alberta people.

A STRAW VOTE may be interesting, but the only test of public opinion will be through the ballot, which Mr. Aberhart is enthusiastically planning. He is quite adroit as a politician, though he has made errors by throwing out hints of boycott against those who dare to criticize his policy, and making promises quite as glittering as those of other aspirants for political leadership.

FOOLS RUSH IN where angels fear to tread. Two men, two women and a young child became marooned in a stalled auto near Crows Nest. Like in the worst storm of the season late at night, after, according to reports, being warned at Fernie that they were taking too big a chance in venturing further eastward. Nature gives plenty of warning of danger ahead, but people lacking in thought risk their own lives, also imperil the lives of others who from a sense of duty and humanity go to their aid. Authorities should be empowered to stop people from travelling highways under such conditions prevailing Sunday night. If they are determined to fly in the face of Providence, why—then its their own funeral if they do not succeed. There is nothing to be admired in absolute foolhardiness

ATTENTION is drawn to Auditor E. D. Battum's report prefacing the financial statement of the town published in this issue. It is very creditable to those on whom is placed the responsibility of municipal financing, also it is creditable to the ratepayer for having paid their taxes, thereby facilitating the carrying on of municipal administration. It illustrates the old saying—where there's a will there's a way, and avoids a lot of worry.

J. S. WOODSWORTH, a C.C.F. leader, and Gerry McGeer, mayor of Vancouver and an ardent Liberal, both are in accord with Premier Bennett's proposals to alleviate unemployment and provide insurance for out-of-workers. The greatest surprise of all is that of Rt. Hon. MacKenzie King in supporting the proposals. Several years ago Mr. King wrote a book entitled "Industry and Humanity" and many of the views expressed therein are similar to those proposed by Mr. Bennett to meet present problems.

Useful Knowledge in Desbarats Book

The Desbarats newspaper directory, which contains more than 370 pages, is a useful addition not only to the advertiser's library but to that of any business man.

This book gives information concerning circulations of Canadian publications, their date of issue, size, publishers, advertising rates, etc., and in quite a unique form the work is a very complete gazetteer of Canada and gives statistical information concerning places where newspapers are issued which it is difficult to find elsewhere. The populations quoted are those of the 1931 census.

The Desbarats advertising agency Ltd., 1184 St. Catherine street West, Montreal, send their book for $1.00 to the advertising manager of any firm who applies for it on his firm's stationery, mentioning his official capacity. The published price is $5.00.

Capt. H. E. Balfour formerly of Victoria High School, Edmonton, and Inspector for recent years in Grande Prairie district, has been appointed inspector of high schools for the province following the elevation of H. # Town of Coleman Financial Statement

FOR THE YEAR ENDING DECEMBER 31, 1934

Calgary, Alberta,
21st January, 1935.

The Mayor and Councillors,
The Town of Coleman,
Alberta.

Gentlemen:—

In accordance with your instructions and the requirements of the Town Act, I have audited the books and records of the Town of Coleman for the year 1934 and for your information, in addition to completing the regular Printed Form required by the Alberta Government I have also prepared the attached Statements from the records of the Town:

1. Cash Statement for the year 1934.
2. Revenue Statement for the year 1934.
3. Balance Sheet as at 31st December 1934.

The Cash Statement shows the details of all Cash received and paid out by the Town during the year 1934 regardless of what it related to, and this Statement shows that the Town collected $2109.41 more than was paid out during the year.

The Revenue Statement shows only the Receipts and Expenses that are applicable to the year 1934, regardless whether such receipts were all received or all expenses were all paid prior to 31st December 1934. This Statement therefore treats the Tax Levy for Town Purposes as if such levy was paid in full. This Revenue Statement shows that the Town after making provision for the usual annual Depreciation Allowance on the various Fixed Assets of the Town, operated in 1934 at a Surplus of $1059.02.

The splendid liquid position of the Town Assets at the present time and in contrast to the general prevailing conditions in Southern Alberta, is due to the persistent efforts made during the past four years to reduce Tax Arrears and the strict economy practised by the Mayor and Council so that full value was received for all money disbursed.

You will note that the Total Taxes collected for Town Purposes during 1934, when taking into account the Discounts Allowed on Current Taxes, exceeded the total Town Tax Levy for 1934 by the sum of $342.87. The Town of Coleman is therefore one of the few Towns in Alberta that has collected its 1934 Tax Levy in excess of 100%.

In accordance with the requirements of the Town Act I visited your office six times during the past year, and beg to report that on each occasion I found the work up to date, the records in balance, and the cash properly deposited to the credit of the Town at the Canadian Bank of Commerce.

During the year the Mayor and Council negotiated a Renewal of the Light and Water Franchise to the Coleman Light and Water Company Limited at a substantial reduction in rates for electricity. This was accomplished without cost to the Consumers of Electricity and Water in the Town of Coleman.

Subject to the foregoing I certify that, in my opinion, the attached Balance Sheet is properly drawn up to show a true and correct view of the affairs of the Town of Coleman as at 31st December 1934, according to the best of my information, the explanations given to me and as shown by the books and records of the Town.

(Signed) E. D. BATTRUM, Auditor.

Lives of Several Endangered

A Mr. Pelletier, living near the lake, received a message from the section house asking him to go over with his team and bring in the marooned people. By this time Capt. Higgins and his party had arrived from the west, and after a consultation, he with his party decided to come in the sleigh, leaving two men in charge, and also told the others to come in. Blain, VanDuzee and Jacques, Greyhound bus driver, who had also become stalled in a small bus, decided to try and get back under their own power, so Pelletier came into Coleman. After reporting by telephone to the police he was ordered to go out and bring in the people still out there. Blain and VanDuzee subsequently came in, while the relief men left in charge of the truck walked in, as also did Constables Foster and Bird, after ascertaining that the party of men and women whom they had been searching for were at J. Stephenson's place, and were waiting the storm to subside before venturing further eastward.

The report early Monday morning gained considerable credence that several of the marooned people had perished in the storm, and naturally created feelings of anguish among their relatives.

It is also reported that the people who telephoned in for assistance were warned at Fernie not to venture over the high way, but persisted in their attempt to reach Lethbridge. They were hauling a trailer, and carried a B. C. license.

PONTIAC SIX

Also an Improved Straight Eight

THERE'S a big new value in the low price field! It's a PONTIAC SIX... smooth-looking, smooth-performing... the kind of car that will make hundreds of new friends for Pontiac.

Few automobiles have consistently given greater measure per dollar than Pontiac, in style and long economical service. Consequently, few cars have won and maintained public goodwill as successfully as Pontiac.

That the 1935 model may be worthy to carry on so favorable a reputation, General Motors has built into this Six every basic Pontiac characteristic, plus an impressive list of improvements. Extra value features include scientific streamlining; solid-steel "Turret-Top" Bodies by Fisher; Triple-Sealed Hydraulic Brakes; Concealed Tire and Luggage Compartment; Fisher No-Draft Ventilation; and Double K-Y Frame.

As a competent judge of the points by which a fine automobile is recognized, we invite you to see the new Six, and its companion, the Straight Eight. Better still, we suggest that you drive them. Let actual experience be your guide to the happiest selection you could make for your next car.

SYNOPSIS

"You've fallen heir to a half-share in plenty of trouble," the lawyer told Gerald Keene. "The Broken Spur has been systematically looting the ranch, and old Joe Carr, your partner, is drinking himself into ruin."

Dad Kane, desert rat and luckless prospector till now in returning to Ted Dutton and Spike Goddard, owners of the Broken Spur ranch, who had grubstaked him, of his discovery of a rich gold mine, and shows samples of the ore. He sees Broken Spur men rustling Hour-glass cattle and protests against it.

Proof of Dustin's cattle stealing activities was accidentally discovered by Stone, who accompanied by Edith Carr was riding fence a long way from the Hour-glass ranch house.

Dustin unexpectedly comes along and seeing them, stops and talks to Edith. He mentions the Soda Springs dispute could be settled by marrying him, and Edith refuses his proposal with remarks that make Dustin furious. He insults Stone, who promptly throws him into a pool of water.

Stone tells Crewe, his foreman about his meeting with Dustin, and is warned that Dustin would kill him if he got the chance. Stone and Crewe go to Seco to send a telegram to Gerald Keene. While at Seco an attempt is made to kill Stone, who proves more than a match for his enemies.

Dustin learns that Gerald Keene has been sent for, and also that Duro Stone has seen the Broken Spur men rustling Carr's cattle. He sets out with Dad Kane to learn the location of his gold discovery and appraise its value. Dad Kane shows Dustin the mine and samples of the rich ore he took from it.

They go back to camp, and Dustin shoots Kane. He fixes the shooting on Peyotl Grege, a drug addict, who, stupefied by the narcotic he had taken, did not know whether he was guilty or not. They bury Kane and then return to the Broken Spur ranch. (Now Go On With The Story)

"I thought he was lying about having lost that notebook," he muttered disgustedly. "It's just barely possible that Corse or Gray may have found him. I'll have to find out that. Anyhow Peyotl will never tell what took place up here."

He knew that he was perfectly safe. Though old Kane was fairly well known in Seco yet at times he had been gone more than two years without exciting comment.

According to any doctor you ask, the only safe way is never to give your child a remedy you don't know all about, without asking him first.

"It's the only one who knows about this find," muttered Dustin. "And it's a cinch now that no one will tell about Corse and Gray rustling the Hour-glass stuff. Come on here, Peyotl," he shouted. "Give a hand here."

Together they carried the limp figure to the narrow trench and laid Gerald Keene at rest under the desert stars. After a coyote on a distant, wind-bitten ridge sent a wailing howl as Peyotl slunk off to the fire and shivered over the flames. Two hours later they left their ponies and headed slowly back for the yellowing flatlands under the rising sun.

CHAPTER X.

That telegram from Gerald Keene caused no debate at the Hour-glass. Old Joe Carr was lifted to the Seventh Heaven of anticipation. The nephew of his old partner, himself a half-owner in the ranch, could do no less than help.

He held conference after conference with Crewe, and Stone, because of his alleged intimacy with Gerald Keene, was called into those meetings. Plan after plan was discussed by the fierce-eyed old cattle-man.

"I know Dustin's got his knife out for me," he said. "I know his gang of thieves has been stealin' me deaf, dumb an' blind but I got no proof."

"Stone has," said Crewe. "Tell him what you told me about seelin' Corse and Gray ear-markin' that calf," he said.

Stone told Carr and Crewe's face was a study. Finally he rose and shook his finger menacingly under Stone's nose. "You been drawin' our pay," he said. "and Crewe's got a good reason for grub an' when you find two Broken Spur men stealin' cattle you say not a word about it. You tell only my manager and even he keeps it from me. I can't see it a-tall."

"I had a darned good reason for only tellin' Crewe," said Stone evenly. "and Crewe's got a good reason for not tellin' you. I saw 'em—yes. The word of one witness will not convict any one. There would be two of them against me. You'd never get anywhere on my evidence alone. We need more than that."

Crewe nodded agreement and that angered Carr still more. He snatched a decanter from the shelf and poured him a gargantuan drink.

"Dog-gone you," he snarled. "Between you, you're goin' to bust me."

"Listen to me, Joe Carr," said Stone. "You an' me's been friends for twenty years. You been tryin' to run your business against a bunch of crooks. You might have done it but for that."

"He jerked a hand at the decanter. "Stone is playin' as square as the knobby. You an' me's been friends for twenty years. You been tryin' to run your business against a bunch of crooks. You might have done it but for that."

At that moment Edith came in, flushed from riding, and stood watching them. Her gaze took in the red notebook that Carr had laid on the table; then it went to Stone. "Of course old Shammie's skin's on foot-lose over the ranges for so long that his brains are added. They get that way sometimes. But I don't believe his big fool enough to let himself up with Dustin unless he's got a straight hold on him. I'd like to think he's found. Let's see."

And again he fell to studying the book.

"One half to Dustin," he said. "That means of course that Dustin's been grub-stakin' Shammie. Why would Dustin grub-stake him? The answer is that Dustin knows Shammie's skin on the trail of something good."

Stone snatched the book.

"There's more to it than you've guessed yet," he said curtly. "The man gives out some directions to read 'em. If we've got sense enough to read 'em He hasn't given this book to Dustin, probably because he doesn't trust Dustin. Evidently he lost the book and those men Gray and Corse, up in that part of the range stealin' your cattle, happened to find it. Corse and Gray may or may not know what Kane knows. The main thing is . . . Find Kane and also find out, before we find him, what it is he thinks he's got. Let's see the directions again. . . . And he read:

"Red Water canon seven to one to white birch. Up Stinking Water three two to sunk can."

By God, Frank! . . . Carr sprang into his life. "That sounds like whatever it is, is on Hour-glass land. . . ."

"Those are distances," said Stone sharply. "But what's he usin' as a unit? That's the question. It can't be a hundred-foot tape. I doubt if they were depending on this stranger to the Hour-glass."

They sat and stared at each other and Edith saw their faces change. From time to time her father and Crewe eyed each other but always their gaze came back to Stone. It was pretty clear that for some reason they were depending on this stranger to the Hour-glass. The mere fact that he and she alone had been able to put Carr in touch with Gerald Keene made him of prime importance just now. Stone broke the silence with a sharp exclamation that was half oath.

"Well," said Crewe. "Spit it out. What's hit you now?"

"How far is it up to that place would you say?"

"Huh. You've been there. I'd say it's about twelve miles. Why?"

"Give me that book and you and Mr. Carr wait here. I want to try a notion of mine. It may not work. I'll be back by night."

Edith rose to her feet with a quick little exclamation.

"I'm going with you," she said quickly. "You don't want to take one of the men of course. Anyhow, they're all out. But I mean to go. His eyes sought and found hers. He knew instantly that no distrust underlay her words. There was a lightness in her eyes and a quick smile on her lips that forbade any thought of guile. His own quick smile replied to hers.

"I'll sure take good care of you if you care to come," he said. "I'll get your pony, Miss Edith."

In ten minutes he was back with his big Isabella horse and her pony. They clattered out of the enclosure, past the corals and turned into the open trail that led westward toward the foothills. Crewe and Carr stood watching them till their figures were swallowed up by the red dust.

"There's something damn funny about that man Stone," quoth Crewe. "I'm satisfied he's as straight as they make 'em but he's sure something different from what he give out."

"He hasn't given out anything," growled Carr. "All I get is a notion of a husky fellow. He's never been range-trained. Anybody can see that but he's willing and he wants to learn. Of course he's a fool if he goes into the cattle business. To do that a man's got to have money to start it and if he's got money he's a double-dyed damned fool to put his money in any game that he don't know thoroughly. See?"

Crew "saw." He saw more than Carr said and he stood staring out over the flat at Edith and Stone as they turned westward and followed the tortuous line of wire-fence to the hills.

Edith, too, wondered a great deal about her companion. He could ride. She knew that he was not afraid of any one or, as far as she saw, of anything, but that might be the result of ignorance, but his lameable grace and grace of all ranch matters was almost laughable at times. She half-turned in her saddle as his horse nosed up alongside the girl of her mount.

"You've been with us at the Hour-glass long enough for me to ask you some questions, haven't you?" she asked. A look in her gray eyes might have told him that those questions were not altogether prompted by idle curiosity.

"Sure. Go ahead," he said cheerfully.

"Where did you come from and how did you happen to land on the Hour-glass? You know Mr. Keene pretty well, don't you? You must know him well the way he has given you the letter that he did."

"He owns a big garage in Cato," he said non-committally. "That's where I saw him last. I've known him a good many years. When I learned about the ranch, I got him to give me the letter but when I got here the Hour-glass happened to need a man and I didn't need to use the letter."

"Did you work for Mr. Keene at the garage?"

"For a while, yes'm. . . ."

"Don't say 'Ma'am' to me," she said sharply.

"What'll I say then?"

"You might try 'Edith,' she laughed. 'Most of the others do.'"

"All right. . . . I mean Edith. . . . They both pocketed the letter and let it go at that and they let their horses out over the level. That long, treeless mesa swept away in mile after mile of pleasant grass-land dotted here and there with stunted mesquites and a few pitched oaks and it pitched slightly up till its ledge was cut by a deep canon. Red Water canon that took its name from the discoloration of the stream due to some iron deposit.

"Up Red Water to Stinking Water. . . . Funny names they gave the places," muttered Stone.

"Yes. . . . Edith knew them well and was versed in the legends of the land. They called the next deep valley Stinking Water because of its sulphur springs. The Indians named it many years ago. Even sheep won't drink the water there."

Here were in Red Water canon. . . . Now what?"

Their ponies pawed at the yellowed soil and scornfully nosed aside the water in the shallow pools.

"Up the valley seven or eight miles," he said reflectively, "to a white birch. . . . Then up Stinking Water three two to a sunk can. . . ."

THE RHYMING OPTIMIST

By Aline Michaelis

TWILIGHT

This is the loneliest, loveliest hour, With dying day a fading flower; All worldly things recede, grow dim, As slowly on the strange scene swim Strange shapes and sounds of other lands And music that comes from earthly hands. And sunlight slanting through the wood Show it in strange theistic mood: The very trees heard our vows, Unreal with sunset in its boughs. And surely from no feathered throat Came that prolonged and poignant note. This twilight world is one wherein All things might be that have not been; That look we dreamed, that smile we thought, Is in this hour snared and caught.

England To India Afoot

From England to India afoot is the goal of young William Holder, Englishman, who left Belgrade for Tirana after spending a few days in the city. Holder has a job in India near Afam on a plantation, but the job will not be ready until 1936. Without any money the Englishman started from London, sleeping in his small tent which he pitched on the outskirts of Belgrade.

Wax is grown on trees by Chinese farmers, who have utilized the wax-making properties of a small Chinese insect. This insect spits cocoons of pure wax, and its masters have learned how to make it produce enormous quantities of the material.

Little Helps For This Week

"Fear none of those things which thou shalt suffer. . . . Ye shall have tribulation ten days; be thou faithful unto death and I will give thee a crown of life." Revelations 2:10.

Then O my soul be not afraid, On Him who thee and all things made Do thou all calmly rest; What'er may come, what'er may go, Our Father in the heavens must know. In all things what is best.

Guide me O Lord in all changes and varieties of the world, that in all things that shall happen I may have an evenness and tranquillity of spirit, that my soul may be wholly resigned to Thy divinent will and pleasure, never murmuring at Thy gentle chastisements and fatherly correction.

Thou are never at any time nearer to God than when under tribulation which he permits for the purification and beautifying of thy soul.

Recalls Hard Journey

Calgary Man Walked To West Sixty Years Ago

C. J. "Con" Duggan, 80, recalls how he walked to western Canada from northern Ontario 60 years ago. Wading through creeks and mosquitoes, tormented by blackflies and mosquitos and practically without food, he arrived at Port Gary, now Winnipeg, 29 days after leaving Thunder Bay, at the head of the lakes.

He travelled the "Dawson route," made famous by Col. Wolesey's journey to quell the Red River rebellion in 1870, and used only one of Duggan's historic journey. He still has the ticket for which he paid $10. On it is inscribed:

"Red river route, No. 241, department of public works, Canada. Depot: Thunder Bay, L.S., June 17, 1874."

"Good to C. J. Duggan for one passage from Thunder Bay to Port Gary. (Signed) M. J. Carpenter and Co."

The party, consisting of 26 persons, had two teams and wagons, but this means of transportation was only sufficient for their baggage.

Value Of Good Reading

Character Of Children Formed By Properly Selected Books

The children's library is a safeguard against many undesirable attractions offered to juveniles, Canon Allan P. Shatford said in an address at Montreal. The "funnies" and the films had their place, the speaker declared, but the child brought up on these would never develop the type of personality fostered by the reading of properly selected books.

One of the most valuable features of the library system, Canon Shatford believed, was the voluntary character of the reading, which had a lasting effect.

Compulsory reading was soon forgotten. The reason many people disliked the Bible was they had been compelled to read it in childhood. "If you want to condemn a book to read it, I am satisfied that in the long run these libraries will have a greater effect on a child's life than anything he is obliged to do in day school."

One-Man Strike Halts Job

A one-man strike has tied up a $260,000 project for the construction of a viaduct at St. Louis, Mo. The man, a holding engineer, was called off the job by his union, which objected to the use of gravel from a company which, it said, does not employ union labor.

Ornithopters are flying machines with flapping wings, or movable planes.

Fire Prevention Awards

Five Saskatchewan Cities Reach High Grading

Activities of fire prevention week in Canadian cities reached a high degree of efficiency, George F. Lewis, deputy fire marshal of Ontario, said in announcing 1934 awards. Keen competition was shown among fire departments and municipalities throughout the country. Saskatchewan was particularly prominent with five cities of 25,000 population and less taking gradings of more than 90 per cent.
